Event by KlikZois, taking place as part of the 90th Thessaloniki International Fair, on the theme:

Active and Healthy Ageing. Innovation and Local Government Facing a Major Social Challenge

The event will bring together representatives from government, local authorities, the scientific community and the healthcare sector, aiming for a meaningful dialogue on the challenges, innovative solutions and best practices that contribute to active and healthy ageing.

We would be delighted to have you join us and exchange views on the future of prevention, independent living and quality care.

We also invite you to visit the KlikZois stand at Pavilion 17 | Stand 51, right next to the Open Stage, where our team will be present throughout the exhibition to present KlikZois's services and innovative solutions, and to discuss potential collaboration opportunities in person.

The event is held under the auspices of the Laboratory of Medical Physics and Digital Innovation of the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki (AUTH) Medical School.
